FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

ARRIVAL OF THE LOCUST POINT.

THE POSITION ON THE TECHE.

Gens. Franklin and Washburn at Camp Bisland.

Guerrilla Operations Near Donaldsonville.

IMPORTANT ORDER BY GENERAL BANKS.

A Conscription Ordered in the First and Second Congressional Districts.

The steamer Locust Point, from New-Orleans Oct. 1, arrived at this port last evening, and we have received our files of the city journals to that date.

No mention is made of army movements, and the truth of the reported repulse of FRANKLIN's corps at Brashear City, and the subsequent victory of Gen. ORD, is not mentioned.

The papers state nothing respecting the health of the city.

The headquarters of the Nineteenth army corps, under Gen. FRANKLIN, and part of the Thirteenth army corps, under Gen. U. C. WASHBURN, are at Camp Bisland, 50 miles from Brashear City. They have met no enemy as yet. Foraging parties have gathered up large quantities of mules, horses and cattle, but the plantations are generally deserted. The advance of the army was delayed on account of obstructions in the Bayou Teche. These obstructions were blown up, and the Bayou Teche is now open for steamers to New-Iberia.

On the 23d, at 1 A. M., a raid was made on the telegraph office situated opposite Donaldsonville, by a band of guerrillas, and fourteen men of the New-York Fourteenth cavalry and the telegraph operator. (Mr. ALLEN, of Illinois,) were captured and taken off. In consequence of this raid, and the reports of bands of guerrillas being in the vicinity of Donaldsonville, from 200 to 500 strong, an expedition was set in motion to clear the country in that neighborhood. The expedition left Carrollton on the night of the 26th by steamboat, about 1,000 men strong, under command of Brig.-Gen. BURBRIDGE. He reconnoitered the whole country to the Amite River without meeting the enemy, and returned to Carrollton on the 28th, without casualties.

Lieut. EARL, of the Fourth Wisconsin, in command of a squad of 40 men, (cavalry,) marched from Baton Rouge on the 20th, as far as the Comite River. He captured fourteen prisoners, their arms, horses and equipments. Among them were the notorious Col. HUNTER and Capt. PERRY, guerrilla chiefs.

It is known that Gen. LOGAN (rebel) is on the east side of the Mississippi River, seven or eight miles below Morgansia Bend, with 2,500 men and four pieces of artillery, and is supposed to be marching to Liberty, Miss., where a rebel force is concentrating.

The following interesting and important order is published:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF, }
NEW-ORLEANS, Sept. 28, 1863. }

GENERAL ORDERS No. 70.—1. The heroic efforts of the Army of the United States have reëstablished the free navigation of the Mississippi and its tributaries. The vindication of the freedom of these waters by the iron hand of war, against a confederation of rebel States, is an event of equal import with their discovery and settlement, and makes the Union a nation. It is a baptism of blood. In a brief period of time this vast and fertile valley will be opened to the peaceful commerce of the world.

Notwithstanding the ravages of war, the destruction of property, the dispersion of laborers, and the decimation of population, the inhabitable globe does not offer a nobler theatre for intelligent enterprise than the Valley of the Mississippi. The cultivation of new products, the application of new elements and different systems of labor, the immediate reorganization of local governments, and the resistless energy of many millions of freemen, will create individual and national wealth, such as the world has never seen. Never was a country better worth fighting for, better worth defending.

The highest duty of the people is to maintain and defend the freedom of the Mississippi, upon which depends the support of the present and the hope of the future. The Government is entitled to the armed assistance of all those who claim the right of citizens, or seek to share their privileges. Those who covet the profits of trade, disclaiming citizenship and acknowledging allegiance to foreign nations only, remain here by permission and favor, and not of right.

In the performance of this duty, and to assist in maintaining the important advantages secured by a free communication between the Valley of the Mississippi and the markets of the world, the citizens of the First and Second Congressional Districts of Louisiana, liable to military duty, have been enrolled for general military service, in accordance with the provisions of the law of Conscription, passed by Congress, so far as it may be applicable to this department. Proper publication will be hereafter made of the number of troops required for this purpose, and the time and manner of their selection. The conscription will not be held to embrace those well-disposed persons who, in the event of capture by the enemy, would not be entitled to the full immunity of soldiers of the United States.

2. The organization of one or more volunteer regiments, to be designated "The Louisiana Volunteers," whose services will be limited by the terms of enlistment, to the protection and defence of New-Orleans, is hereby authorized. Volunteers for this service will receive a bounty of one hundred dollars, twenty-five dollars of which, and one month's pay, will be advanced when the volunteer is mustered into service for the war. Capt. C. W. KILLBORN, Provost-Marshal of the City of New-Orleans, is charged with the immediate organization and command of the First regiment; Capt. C. B. BROWN, Provost-Marshal of the Parish of Jefferson, is authorized to organize and command the Second regiment. The First regiment will be recruited and organized in the City of New-Orleans, excepting the Fourth District, and the Second within the limits of the Parish of Jefferson and the Fourth District of New-Orleans.

3. Able-bodied men of color between the ages of 29 and 30 years, employed upon Government or on private plantations, will be detained for military service in the Corps d'Afrique, upon order of the Commission of Enrollment. No officer or other person is allowed to recruit men for any special regiment of that corps; and every officer recruiting for this corps under this order will be furnished with, and required to exhibit, authority for his acts, signed by the Superintendent of Recruiting, and approved by the Commission of Enrollment. Substitutes will be received in cases where the labor of the recruit is specially required, and exemptions allowed in cases of necessity, upon application to the Commission of Enrollment, but by no other person or authority. Arrangements will be made to secure the crops of the season, and laborers will be furnished as far as practicable to supply the vacancies occasioned by the execution of this order. The first duty of those engaged in the cultivation of the soil is to protect it from invasion, and those whose interests are inconsistent with a vigorous defence of the department, or who are indifferent to the invasions of a public enemy, can have no rights which the Government is bound to respect.

By command of Major-Gen. BANKS.
G. NORMAN LIEBER, A. A. A. General.

FROM NEW-ORLEANS HARBOR.

Return of the Iron-Clad Weehawken—No Important Movement—Indications of a Fire in Charleston.

The United States steam-transport Curlew, PARISH, from Port Royal Oct. 4, with the iron-clad Weehawken in tow from Charleston, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon. Left at Port Royal sloops-of-war Vermont and John Adams; gunboats Flag, Wissahickon, Mahaska and South Carolina; iron-clads Patapsco and Passaic; steam-transports Thomas Thorne, Promethens, Tully and Fair Haven; also, a large fleet of barks, brigs and schooners. Sailed from Charleston 6th, at 6 A. M. She brings a mail from there and fourteen discharged soldiers. On the 6th inst., off Cape Fear, passed steamship Arago, hence for Port Royal.

CHARLESTON HARBOR, Monday, Oct. 5.

Under this date our correspondent at Morris Island sends the following:

All is quiet, except occasional firing from the rebel forts. Gen. GILLMORE's preparations are nearly complete; and it is believed that active operations will soon be resumed. The steamers Fah-Kee and Commodore Dupont arrived yesterday from Fortress Monroe.

REPORTS VIA BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, Friday, Oct. 9.

The following has been received from the correspondent of the American:

CHARLESTON HARBOR, Friday, Oct. 2.

Monotonous inactivity continues to prevail here. The rebel fire upon our working parties has slackened. Gen. GILLMORE's works are rapidly progressing. Our batteries now reply to the James Island forts, and occasionally shell the ruins of Fort Sumter. The health of the army and navy is good. There was a heavy northeast gale last night, but our vessels sustained no damage.

Friday Evening.—There was considerable firing this evening between our batteries and the rebel works on James Island. Fort Sumter was also shelled for a short time.

There is a heavy cloud of smoke on James Island, apparently from a fire in Charleston.

AFFAIRS AT CHATTANOOGA

Advices from General Rosecrans to Tuesday.

The Bombardment by the Rebel Batteries.

NOBODY FRIGHTENED OR HURT.

Telegraphic Communication Between Nashville and Stevenson Restored.

WASHINGTON, Friday, Oct. 9.

The Republican extra says:

"The Government has advices from Chattanooga down to the 6th inst.

On the 5th the rebel batteries opened on ROSECRANS' position at long range—the longest being three miles, the shortest two and seven-tenths of a mile. The firing was not very rapid.

A dispatch from Gen. ROSECRANS' headquarters, dated the 6th, says: "Not a man was injured by the rebel batteries yesterday. Our men are not annoyed by the long range firing in the least, and go about their work the same as ever. The negro boys continued to play marbles while the bombardment was going on, which is some evidence that a very extensive alarm did not exist.

The Republican's Extra says: "Other dispatches go to show the impregnable position of ROSECRANS. There is no official confirmation of the rebel statement that two of ROSECRANS' pontoon bridges over the Tennessee River had been carried away. Telegraphic communication, broken by rebel raiders, between Nashville and Stevenson has been restored."

WASHINGTON, Friday, Oct. 9—P. M.

It is ascertained that none of Gen. ROSECRANS' very latest dispatches, which are to the evening of the 5th inst., mention anything relative to the situation in the locality of Chattanooga, all of them referring entirely to military details. The other dispatches, however, recently received by the Government, speak of events in that quarter, and are from Gen. MEIGS.

Correspondence of the Evening Post.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 8, 1863.

Private advices from the Army of the Cumberland state that the rebels had made a reconnoissance in force upon the flank of our army, and had discovered one important fact—the character and numbers of Gen. ROSECRANS' recent reinforcements. Gen. HARTSUFF is here direct from Eastern Tennessee. He speaks hopefully of Gen. BURNSIDE's position.

It is the opinion of some of our military leaders in this quarter that LEE is sending off another division of his army to BRAGG, though this is merely conjecture.

GEN. WISTAR'S EXPEDITION.

Guerrilla Bands in Matthews County, Virginia, Dispersed.

Capture of Prisoners, Cattle and Arms, and Destruction of Boats.

GOOD CONDUCT OF COLORED TROOPS.

The following dispatch has been received at headquarters:

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct 9, 1863.

Maj.-Gen. H. W. Halleck, General-in-Chief:

I have the honor to report that the expedition sent out on Sunday, under Gen WISTAR, to break up or capture the guerrillas and boats' crews organized by the enemy in Mathews County, has returned, having in the main, accomplished its object. Four rebel naval officers, twenty-five men and twenty-five head of cattle, belonging to the Confederacy, together with horses, mules and arms, are the results. A large number of rebel boats were destroyed. Our loss was one man killed. Gen. WISTAR reports the Fourth United States Infantry, (colored,) making thirty miles in one day, with no stragglers.

J. G. FOSTER,
Major-General Commanding.

Prize Fight at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Thursday, Oct. 8.

Two steamboat loads of passengers started on Tuesday from this city to witness a prize fight in Salano County, between two pugilists named DWYER and WALKER. The fight commenced on Tuesday night. After seventeen rounds, it was adjourned on account of the darkness. It was resumed Wednesday morning, and continued three hours and twenty minutes, making in all forty-one rounds in four hours' fighting. DWYER was declared victor. WALKER was withdrawn by his seconds much against his will. WALKER was entirely blind. The fighting was declared good by all parties.

The National Horse Fair.

PROVIDENCE, Friday, Oct. 9.

The National Horse Fair, to-day, was largely attended. To-morrow, the match for $1,000 occurs. Several celebrated horses are entered.

UNION MEETING AT COOPER INSTITUTE.

THE WAR FOR THE UNION.

Who is Responsible?—"The Union as it Was and the Constitution as it is"—The Suspension of the Habeas Corpus, &c.,

Treated in a Speech of Hon. Henry Winter Davis.

A large and highly appreciative audience was called together at Cooper Institute, last evening, by the announcement that Hon. HENRY WINTER DAVIS, of Maryland, would speak on the interesting and vital topics of the day. They were well repaid by an address of unusual power, eloquence and logic, exposing the shifts to which opponents of the Government and sympathizers with the rebellion have resorted since the outbreak of the war, and impressing the duty of every man who loved the country to support the Administration in its efforts to subdue traitors abroad and at home.

At 7½ o'clock, Mr. JAMES KELLY nominated as Chairman ELLIOT C. COWDIN, Esq., who was received with applause. Mr. COWDIN, on coming forward, said:

SPEECH OF MR. COWDIN.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: My first duty is to thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me. The Government being formed by the people, the people must watch and protect it. Every man has a trust imposed upon him, and a duty to perform; he owes it to himself and to his country to perform that duty faithfully, and to exercise that trust rightfully. Our institutions, thank God, are none of the Mead and Persian stamp; we have no law that cannot be repealed; we have no Constitution that may not be molded to existing wants; but while they exist, it becomes our imperative duty to stand by them at all hazards, [applause,] and to maintain them at every sacrifice. [Applause.] It is not enough to pay taxes and furnish substitutes; we must stand by the Government with alacrity. [Applause.]

SPEECH OF HON. HENRY WINTER DAVIS.

Mr. DAVIS, on coming forward, was warmly welcomed. He said;

FELLOW CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES: A year ago, to the prophetic eye of Mr. SEYMOUR, a great conservative party commenced to grow in the land, like the tree of the prophet's vision, which was to spread its arms until it covered the whole earth, and in the branches whereof the birds were to find a resting place. A year has passed by, and that plant proves to be of the passing nature of the prophet's gourd. The high hopes that then inspired the gentlemen who had carried the great Central States of the Union are now not so brightly colored. Their success has been their ruin. They attained the opportunity of violating the power of great States, which put their prudence to sleep, and allowed to escape from them the real purposes and views which they had been successful before the people in disguising. [Cheers.] Since their advent to power, the riots of New-York have illustrated who are responsible for the origin of the war. [Loud applause.] That is a topic which in my State we have long ceased to discuss. I observe that here our opponents consider it a topic tormenting, they think, to their political antagonists, on which they may even yet delude a few men, and one to which they address their diatribes. Now I am free to confess that on that subject I have had no hesitation from the beginning. One party say it is the South that is responsible for the war; another party say it is the North that is responsible for the war; and if our political opponents think they can make anything by the admission, I am willing to admit that the North is responsible for the war. [Cheers.] Responsible for it, because without war the National integrity could not have been maintained; the nation's honor could not have been kept unsullied; the men of the North could not have avoided it without humiliation. [Loud applause.] Are these not adequate justification? But if our opponents wish to press the question a little further back, I shall repeat my declaration, that the North, or a great proportion of it, is responsible, upon a different ground, for the war. They who annexed Texas; they who repealed the Missouri Compromise—they who supported the border ruffians in Kansas, and who struggled to fix upon an unwilling people the yoke of the Lecompton Constitution—they who denied to a majority the right of establishing such a Government as they desired within the limits of their own Territory—they who, during long years, accepted every limitation on the power of the Constitution, which the dominant party of the South thought necessary to the preservation of their power, and at the dictation of that interest laid waste wide regions. They who aided Southern politicians to do these things are responsible for the war. [Cheers.] But for the Seymours and Woodwards—but for the Vallandighams and the Woods—[hisses]—but for the Buchanans and the Pierces—where would the war have been? [Cheers.] But for the great class of Northern gentlemen who taught the South that nothing that could be asked would be refused—that no humiliation was so low that it would not be submitted to for power—that office could compensate every humiliation, and that no fergiversation was too rapid or humiliating to buy their favor; but for the men who taught them that they held the Northern party who acted with them at their beck and call—but for these gentlemen, there would have been no war. [Renewed cheers.] But for the men who joined JAMES BUCHANAN in declaring that the Constitution had left the Government powerless in the face of an armed enemy, there could have been no war. [Cheers.] But for the men who announced that war would commence in the cars when our soldiers were sent to coerce the South; but for the opinions spread broadcast throughout the land, that the beginning of the war against the South would be the beginning of war in the North, bolstering up the hesitating courage of the rebels, leading them to infer that there would be a fire in the rear, which would paralyze the power of the Government—but for this organization of Northern men, acting for the South, and leading them to believe that they would shield them in the day of battle, and be a cloud to protect them against their enemies—you would have had no war. [Cheers.] Aye, and with all those things you would have had no war, had it not been for another and much more respectable class of individuals—gentlemen who form a mistaken sense of sympathy for what they supposed to be the weaker side, and at the bidding of a generous impulse, though an erroneous one, coincided in their political acts with the gentlemen I have described in very different terms—who went to the brink, and stepped back before the plunge was made—such men as Gen. JOHN COCHRANE and Gen. LOGAN, who were with those men until they made war, but are now with the nation; but for the countenance of these men lending respectability to what otherwise would have been a transparent reaching for power, but for these men the South could never have been led into supposing that the great body of the North were for ruining their interests, or content to let their "erring sisters go in peace." [Cheers.] These are my views plainly expressed, of the origin of the war. Now, how should it be ended? By peace? Who will make it? Who will propose terms of compromise, after those that have been rejected? Amnesty! They who suggest it wish to paralyze the National arm, and leave it defenceless in the face of its enemies. Peace—blessed and glorious peace! Men of the United States, that beauty is to be sought across the battle-field. [Enthusiastic cheers.] It is not to be had this side of it. It stands horror-stricken at what is in the way. There are men arrayed in arms who did not go there to play. They went there to effectuate the purposes of a long life; who burn with a thirst for power, and who are resolutely bent on triumphing. To them Union on any other terms is defeat—peace, on any terms, is disgrace—if they carry not with it independence. Submission! Submission, with arms in their hands, even as they are now, driven from great regions of territory, cooped up within the space of five States, instead of eleven, many of their armies disorganized, to them submission, with an army in the field, is a thing not to be talked of—not to be dreamed of. [Applause.] Submission! Distance forbids them, and the fear of shame amidst the spirits beneath whom they seduced with far other vaunts and promises. And yourselves, men of America! for you everything is propitious—hope beckons you on, but it is through ensanguined fields, and it is only across them that peace is to be sought. [Loud cheers.] Are you under the delusion that there are Union men of the South? Certainly there are some. Do you suppose that a majority (of any Southern State, if the question were left, to-morrow, between independence and Union—on any terms that Mr. SEYMOUR could offer, crawling on his knees to present the parchment, would accept the latter? It is only after the sword has been stricken from their lands, after their armies have been dispersed, after their legislatures have been driven from power and are fugitive, that you can ask them whether, according to the laws, they are willing to submit to the control of government. But how are we to accomplish this result? What are we waging the war for, fellow-citizens? for they who differ with us as to the responsibility of the war, differ also with us as to the purposes and objects of the war. They say the war is being waged for abolition purposes, or to destroy the liberty of the people, or to introduce a despotism, to abolish the laws and make ABRAHAM LINCOLN and his successors dictators over the people of the United States. We say that the war is being waged under the Constitution for the purpose of guaranteeing and restoring a republican Government in the great area now covered by the rebellion. [Cheers.] Will they admit that to be a legitimate object of the war? If they do, there is no difference between us. If they say that Congress, in the face of "the Constitution as it is," has no right and is not bound to guarantee a republican Government to the States in rebellion—to guarantee it, if it exists—to compel its acceptance, if a majority or minority see fit to impede it—then it will not do for those gentlemen to howl any more for the Constitution as it is. [Cheers.] If they mean to expurgate the Constitution to meet their views and fancies—if, by crying, "The Union as it was, and the Constitution as it is!" they mean we shall roll back the car of Time—undo the last two years—reinstate matters as they were the day that ABRAHAM LINCOLN entered into power, or as they were on the 1st of November, 1860—if they undertake to accomplish that by the magic phrase, "The Union as it was," then they, of course, attempt impossibilities. [Loud applause.] Will they wake the dead to life? Will they restore to us undivided Virginia? Will they reinstate the secession authorities in eleven of the United States? Will they insist upon restoring the fugitive Governors of Louisiana and Tennessee?—of deposing Gov. PIERREPOINT and reinstating JOHN LETCHER? Will they insist on subjecting the martyrs of East Tennessee to the butchers that would destroy them? Will they insist upon undoing everything that has been accomplished? If they do, then they ought to give their interpretation of the "Union as it was," when they use that phrase to delude their fellow-citizens, and let them judge whether, if it were possible, it would be accepted,—or whether it is a delusion, a humiliation and a disgrace to talk about it. [Applause.] The "Union as it was" is as dead as the Empire of Rome! [Cheers.] The "Constitution as it is" survives and clings to it in its altered form, made in accordance. [Renewed cheers, and cries of "Bravo!"] And I take it now it is too late to attempt to strangle the Constitution by the Constitution itself. [Loud applause.] The men of this generation have seen enough of that. They know now that a million of men are in arms because a generation has been taught that the Constitution was a mere negation—a mere barrier around Slavery—a protection to those who valued its power, and a stumbling-block to every one else. Aye, gentlemen, "The Constitution as it is!" I am in favor of it. I am not for scratching out one letter; I am not for misconstruing one line; but I respectfully deny to any antagonists to put their meaning of it in my mouth. [Cheers.] My stomach was bred on old Federal ideas, gentlemen, and it is a little weak for the nauseous compound of this constitution of the latter day. [Laughter and cheers.] I take the Constitution as it was founded, as GEORGE WASHINGTON left it, as JOHN ADAMS administered it, and as ABRAHAM LINCOLN is executing it in his day. [Enthusiastic applause.] I am not in favor of any latitudinarian Constitution. I am not in favor of the usurpation of any illegal power. I fear the tendency is now on the other side, and that there is a desire to trammel the Government by old precedents that ought to be discarded, rather than to give it any excess of power. Some of the things that were cast up to the Government last year had their foundation in fact. Acts of Congress have wiped out all ground for the howl, and yet the howl goes up to Heaven. No words have been thought too violent, no epithets too offensive, to describe the conduct of the President in making military arrests. Unfortunately it was called a "suspension of the writ of habeas corpus." It was nothing of the kind. The opponents of the Government, with a soft feeling for our "erring sisters," went straight to the most honorable prejudices of the American people by taking the word and forgetting the law and the fact. [Cheers.] They argued, the President cannot suspend the writ of habeas corpus, and inferred that he could not arrest a man in arms against the Government. [Cheers.] And that howl has been kept up to this day. Now I agree and I always say, nay, gentlemen, I maintain, that there is no power in the United States that can put itself paramount to law; and I maintain, likewise, that the wisdom of our ancestors so framed the law that when you got beyond its limits you were weaker than when in its restraint. Suspension of the habeas corpus? No! Arrest of men engaged in rebellion? Yes! [Applause.] Can the President make an illegal arrest? Of course he cannot legally make an illegal arrest. The question answers itself. [Laughter and cheers.] Now, how says the great Charter, or "Constitution as it is?" "No man shall be arrested except by due process of law," and our sagacious gentlemen, who criticize the conduct of the authorities in Washington, assume there can be no process of law except the judicial process of law. The Constitution nowhere says so. It is not a judicial process to shoot a man on the field of battle. It is not a judicial process to seize a prisoner of war, to prevent his shooting you; but it is due process of law for the traitor. [Applause.] It is the difference by law between peace and war—it is the difference between suppressing armed opposition to the Government and seizing men according to the Constitution and carrying them before a Court. Gen. WASHINGTON had the necessity of doing just what ABRAHAM LINCOLN is doing, and under his Administration the law was passed, in 1794, under which ABRAHAM LINCOLN called out the first 75,000 men; and it was that law which JAMES BUCHANAN said was not constitutional. [Prolonged cheering.] The Constitution says the President may use the army and navy to suppress Insurrection. That is not trying a man. He is beyond the reach of trial; he is armed in a way that the Sheriff cannot overcome. The President goes out against him in military array. He does not examine the man, whether he is in rebellion or not; he finds he has a gray uniform on and he shoots him. [Cheers.] Now, it is just as legal to wear a gray uniform as a blue. It is an unbearable outrage to take away a man's life because he is dressed in gray! [Laughter and cheers.] Again, the Constitution says the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless in cases of invasion or public danger the public safety may require it. That is an entirely different thing from using the army and navy. This reaches men whose opinions and words are dangerous—who cannot be made amenable to justice, but whom the public good requires should be confined until the public safety permits them to go at large. It is that great discretionary power of arrest which Congress in its wisdom—and only a year too late, in my judgment—has placed at the disposal of the President of the United States in conformity with "the Constitution as it is;" and I do not find that being in conformity with the Constitution as it is at all softens the blow either to the secret traitors who find an eye upon them they cannot escape, or to those sympathisers who want them to escape. [Laughter and cheers.] Gentlemen, the men who urge these objections to the Government do not do it in good faith. Those things of which I have been speaking to you, are the A B C of the law; there is no lawyer so ignorant who does not know it. But there was something to be gained by playing on the ignorance of the laity; and they thought that as they were habituated to sixty or seventy years of time-honored peaceful freedom, when nobody remembered that Gen. JACKSON arrested in New-Orleans a Judge who bored him in his military proceedings, [cheers,] they could make a profitable investment by playing on the prejudices of the American people, and saying you can only be arrested legally by the Sheriff, and all other means is Black Republican misrule and despotism. [Ceeers and laughter.] England had her habeas corpus suspended for twenty years, and she is a free Government yet, and, in my judgment, had she not suspended it, she would not have been. And when you talk about the discretion being vested in a high office, where else would you vest it? It hurts no one except the person actually engaged in the rebellion, or so notoriously known to be so that he feels himself suspected. [Cheers.] And if I were called upon to state the balance of responsibility between the Government for laxity or for excessive rigor in the exercise of the discretionary power placed in it—looking at the traitorous atmosphere by which the Government has been surrounded—information conveyed to the enemy which constantly defeats our operations and kills many of our people in the field—I should say the President has erred on the side of lenity and against the blood of the free and loyal States—[loud cheers]—not against the time-honored liberties of the American people. [Applause.] If anybody is hurt, let him go to Congress next Winter and prefer a bill of impeachment against the President. [Applause.] If I happen to be there, I will give him my most profound and impartial consideration. Although I live almost upon the border of the theatre of war, where some people have been arrested, I have never yet heard of an error which picked up a man who was a man loyal to the United States, and incarcerated him. There perhaps have been some persons imprisoned, who, if I had been asked if I thought it best to arrest them, I would have said, "No, let him go—that cat can do no harm." I think the same in regard to that Maryland Legislature, which had been trying for three months to hatch the egg of secession. Men in arms in Frederick had told them three months before, "Close your doors and pass an ordinance of secession, and we will pitch you out of the windows;" and they never let the doors close upon their sessions for three mortal months. Two-thirds of the people of Maryland had voted three months before to remain in the Union—and she had then her full quota in arms serving under the Government. Though I don't think they were worthy Fort Warren, still less do I think they were worth the printer's ink the world has spent upon them. Yet they cannot complain—they were plotting to do what they could not do—what they had not the pluck to do—what they were not willing to take the responsibility to do—what they were hoping some angel would come from the bottomless pit to do for them. [Applause.] No, gentlemen, the error of the Government, in my judgment, is on the side of lenity and against the blood of our fellow-citizens. [Applause.] But what is the object of the war, and how shall we attain it? I say the object of the war is to restore the Republican Government in the rebellious States—not to bring back the gentlemen that will immediately strike hands with Mr. SEYMOUR when they are restored to power, by a long shot—not to reinstate the old coalition of Northern Democrats, now called Copperheads, and Southern traitors, to rule us—not for the purpose of restoring to a broken down aristocratic faction both power and the instrument by which to wield it. But enlightened by the events of the past two years I would deal with them according to their deserts and unsettle the foundations of the patriarchal institution and build anew over its ruins. [Great applause.] What? But say our friends, "That is contrary to the Constitution as it is." [Laughter.] Not at all, it is just contrary to the Union as it was. Yes, I am for restoring Republican Government. In whose hands? In the hands of JEFFERSON DAVIS, of JOHN LETCHER, of Gov. BONHAM, of fugitive HARRIS, of Tennessee, and the nameless fugitive of Louisiana? Gentlemen, I don't wish to press on you any strict constructions. I want the Constitution enforced according to its plain meaning. Opinions may fluctuate—be this to-day and that to-morrow, apparently. Men think that military power is the Government;—military power is the mere instrument opinion uses to execute its will. Everywhere this is so. It is so here. Opinions, though apparently unstable, are like the sea—its fluctuations are short, and ultimately the great sea-level is the astronomer's point of calculation. It is opinion that places men in authority, arms them, keeps them in the field, moves them upon the enemy, dissipates them like the morning mists when it changes. [Applause.] It is opinion that I am anxious to retain on the side of the Government. It is because the people of America are anxious on the subject of the legality of the conduct of their rulers that I press on you the proof that their conduct is legal. It is because of the dangers that beset us last year, when a large portion of the people were persuaded falsely that they were acting illegally, that I desire to call the minds of the people to the foundations of the Republican Government and to settle the opinion of the people on the side of those in authority. When that is done permanently, then your armies will feel as if generations stood at their backs to follow up their thinning ranks—then they will know that they who perish will live in the opinion of those who come after them and the glory of to-day will bear up the martyr upon the field of battle. [Applause.] What is the object of the war? Not a wretched, hollow truce patched up between hunters for political power that they may set down and divide the spoils, but a peace that will allow opinion to sink to its normal level—a peace that will allow commerce to resume its course—a peace that will allow America again to be the home of smiling industry and prosperity and not the bright theatre for the display of arms. [Applause.] And I say that can only be done, not by avoiding the question; not by wincing at new matters that are brought before you; not by hesitating, but by taking in your hand the Constitution and applying it according to its meaning. I am for guaranteeing, in the language of the Constitution, Republican Government in the rebellious States, [applause] and guaranteeing the means to maintain that which exists, and if the people destroy it, to restore it. The Constitution of the United States declares that Congress shall guarantee to every State a republican form of Government, and likewise says it may pass all laws necessary and proper to effect that purpose. [Applause.] I discard all wild theories that the rebels are alien enemies or that the States in rebellion have forfeited their existence—the Constitution knows nothing of the kind. The Constitution, however, does recognize the difference between a republican and a non-republican government, and no Government which does not recognize the Constitution of the United States can be a Republican Government in its sense. It is not a question of theory, but of fact, that when the rebellious Government drew the sword, they abrogated the Government under which they had previously been living—but they forfeited nothing. They created a new Governments, which they substituted in the place of the old, but that is not forfeiture. Their will was their Government—their will tore it down. It was their will that swore obedience to the Constitution of the United States—it was their will that renounced it. They could destroy their Government, but they could not take it from beneath the Constitution of the United States. The destruction of their Government was a fact; it did not alter their relation to the Government of the United States. The power and the duty is imposed on you to guarantee a republican form of government within the limits of these States. There is none there now; there is no Government in point of fact in Tennessee of any kind; there is none in Louisiana of any kind; there is no court in existence; no process can issue; nobody can execute the law; there is no process by which you can collect debts, and you know that here to your cost. [Laughter.] There is no government in the rebellious States. When the armies of the United States shall have advanced there, and swept away this mobocracy, there will be no government there then. How shall governments be organized? When republican government ceases, the guarantee of Congress intervenes; there is the ample power; there is the duty imposed. Congress must have its right of judgment; it is the ultimate and only arbiter of what is and what is not a republican Government—who are and who are not the people of a State. If, therefore, a small or a large body of men, who really do not represent the great body of the people from any State, shall come and claim recognition, if Congress recognizes them there is no remedy, but it is equally certain that it is a violation of its duty. It is the duty of Congress to discriminate, and it is not to inaugurate a domination of the few over the many—of the rich over the poor—of the black over the white, or of the white oppressively over the black. [Applause.] If they can do the one they can do the other. It cannot be supposed that the authorities of the United States, charged with those high powers of Government, should stand by and see a cruel war waged in every State between struggling factions; stand by and see its foundations laid in chaos. They are bound, not merely to judge when the work is presented, but to execute the work. It is their duty to go with the law of Congress even to the rebellious States, prescribing who shall vote and who shall not vote in organizing new Republican Governments; prescribing who shall bear arms and wield them to repress rebellious influences, that otherwise might impress a monster aspect upon the new Republics of the South; appoint some one who shall preside in their conventions, to see that they shall act in accordance to what Congress itself deems to be necessary to the foundation of Republican Governments. And when, under those auspices, the people of any State of the South shall have declared themselves ready to organize a State Government in accordance with other State Governments, and Congress shall approve the work, and not before—then, and not till then—there will be a Republican Government in the rebellious States entitled to appear by its representatives in Congress, and to have the warlike control removed from within its borders. And then what should be done when government comes to execute its great guarantee? Reinstate—for the benefit of Gov. SEYMOUR and his friends—the Union as it was? Not with my consent. You will end the war when you strike the sword from the hands of the rebels, and you will not end it before; and when you have ended it they cannot resist you. I do not propose to patch a peace over the festering remnants of the rebellion. I want to stamp out its last spark. There are those who think that everything will work itself out. I never had much faith in that system, and now I know it wont apply. What we do we have got to do by firm statesmanship and firm action. Then we are to reorganize the governments at the South upon the basis of the States of the North. [Applause.] I am not preaching about what I am not practicing at home. Maryland has not rebelled, but next year Maryland will have wiped out Slavery from her soil. [Great applause, waving of hats, and cheering—three cheers for "My Maryland."] We are not afraid in Maryland to try the question and decide it. I wish to know whether the people of the Free States, who have now a majority in Congress and possession of the Executive Department of the Government, have the spirit to encounter that question in their department. For, gentlemen, I tell you, it depends upon you, and not upon me. If your Congressmen will do their duty, America will be a free Republic from Maine to Florida in less than two years. [Applause.] If you shy from the question, if the gentlemen that you send to Congress are afraid to meet it; if they allow any craven calculation to pass through their minds as to whether they may jeopardize a presidential election, or the election of somebody to Congress, or of somebody for Constable at home, then nothing will be done. If they come forward in the faith of the ultimate triumph of free principles of government, and say that they who have laid down their hundred thousand men under the soil have a right to say what shall triumph above it, they have the power in their hands. [Applause.] But some way the President's proclamation will execute it. I beg leave, with all respect to that measure, and the views and purposes which caused its utterance, undoubtedly patriotic, and, in view of our foreign relations, wise, yet, as a practical measure, conferring freedom upon the negro, I desire to say that those who rest upon it will find themselves deluded. Who will execute it? Oh, they say, if it is legal it can be enforced, and if it is illegal, it cannot be made legal. I differ with them on both points. If it is legal and is not enforced, it might as well never have been written. And when the machinery of war disappears from the horizon, and you have reinstated the friends of Gov. SEYMOUR in the State Governments of the South, and they will possess the Legislature to pass the laws and the Governor to execute the laws, and the Judges to interpret the laws, where will the rights of the negroes be when he produces the Proclamation in the Southern Courts of Justice? And if he cannot produce it there, he cannot produce it anywhere. And when they say that it is invalid, and cannot be made valid, it can be made valid by Congress. Being for the time the Legislature, and alone possessing legislative powers over the States, it can pass laws which it regards necessary to secure the permanent welfare of Republican government and entitled by this law, in the absence of government, to declare every slave free by law. [Cheers.] The States have no government of their own. That is a simple fact. If they have no government, there is no government there to execute laws, there is no legislature to pass laws, there is no sheriff to arrest wrong-doers, there is no court to execute law. There must be legislation somewhere, for absence of law is anarchy. Congress is the only legislative power for the State. It is bound to keep the peace and punish crime, to levy taxes and institute Courts, to see that property is transferred, that rights are not invaded, justice is administered, the marriage ceremony performed legally. And if it can touch these relations at one point, it can touch them at another point. If it can authorize or forbid the relation of master and apprentice, it can authorize or forbid the relation of master and slave. But when it is said that Slavery can only live under the State Governments, and fall when the States abrogated their governments, I say, in point of fact, they are wrong. It existed for seventy years under the exclusive jurisdiction of Congress in the District of Columbia, and those charged with Government did not say that when a Republican Administration went in Slavery went out; but they put it out by a law of Congress. It is vain to attempt to avoid legislation on the question by the introduction of bad metaphysics. One half of the people won't understand you and the other half won't believe you. But when you say that Government is conferred with the right to guarantee Republican Government to all the States, and when the alternative is anarchy old institutions must fall, it is plain and simple and understood. But without power no right can be maintained. If we should confer freedom and leave the negro a helpless and disarmed, disfranchised individual, you have left him the prey of those that wild political power over him. It will never be that there shall be consolidated liberty at the South, until the President shall not merely have proclaimed freedom, but taught the negro the use of arms and organized him for freedom. [Great cheering.] That process is now taken. It is taken in my judgment very late, a year too late, perhaps two years too late, but it is taken and is going on. Let public opinion support the President and not only support him but urge him on. [Cheers.] Let those who think the negro not good enough to serve by their side remember, that they served in the ranks of GEORGE WASHINGTON, and ANDREW JACKSON, and if they think the negro is inferior to them on the field of battle, let them test it by seeing who gets nearest the enemy's cannon, [applause;] and if they say that them that will fight as white men are not entitled to the freedom of white men, let them come and argue that before you. [Applause.] There can be no liberty in the world without adequate guarantee. The only guarantee to be given to the negroes is, that at the end of the war large masses of them shall be in arms whom it will be more difficult to reduce to Slavery than to let them remain free. [That's so.] Great will be our infamy if we should attempt to expel the negro from our soil. The negroes are now helping themselves in all the Slave States. When the proclamation was put forth everybody said, Now we will have no negro insurrections. Where has there been any negro insurrections? Where have there not been negro massacres by the rebels? The prophecy sprung from the wish of the Prophet. I never sympathized with radical Abolitionists, for I thought them one hair's breadth this side of craziness. I know that, with only a feeble influence, they have been used by Northern Democrats and Southern Secessionists to smut and blacken all the rest of the people of the North. Now, when the nation is on the point of triumph; now, when the only thing that fires the Southern arms is the success of the Opposition, and hope that Mr. SEYMOUR will come to help them in the Presidency, ["Never."] Aye, never, if you are successful here and in Ohio and Pennsylvania, but if not assuredly—now when the last appeal is being made—now some men begin to talk about the negro equality, and revive the old disgusting prejudices which the enemies of the Republic alone use for our mischief, and which no man can ever use for our good, and I say, as little regard as I have for the Abolitionists, that the man

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS,

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

MR. GOTTSCHALK'S constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

PIANOS. MUSIC

READ THIS. NEARLY IMPOSSIBLE, BUT TRUE.

Our world-renowned PIANOS—the result of all modern improvements—are offered now at extremely low rates. All Pianos warranted for five years, and taken back if not suitable. Our prices are from $250 upward. Dealers and Teachers will find it to their own profit by recommending our Pianos.

MUSIC.—In spite of the high premium on gold and 30 per cent. duties, we concluded to sell all foreign and domestic Music of every description at only 2c. to 3c. per page, (nearly ⅓ of the former prices.)

All orders from the country promptly filled, and mailed, postage paid, on receipt of price.

P. A. WUNDERMANN, No. 629 Broadway, N. Y.

STEINWAY & SONS'

GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 82 and 84 Walker-st., New-York.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The Locust Point arrived last evening from New-Orleans with dates to the 1st. The papers make no allusion to the report published on Thursday, of the repulse of Gen. FRANKLIN'S command at Brashear City, and the subsequent victory over the rebels by Gen. ORD, nor do they state anything regarding the health of the city. We are informed by our correspondence that FRANKLIN'S corps, at latest advices, was encamped with WASHBURN'S command at New-Bisland, 50 miles from Brashear City, and that the comparative slowness of his advance was attributable to the obstruction of the Bayou Teche by the enemy. These obstacles had been removed, and the stream was open to New-Iberia. A guerrilla party had captured several of our men near Donaldsonville, and an expedition to clear the country of these depredators had been successful. Several important orders issued by Gen. BANKS have been made public. One announces that there will be a conscription in the First and Second Congressional Districts of the State; that the organization of one or more volunteer regiments for the protection and defence of New-Orleans is authorized; that men of color, from 20 to 30 years of age, employed upon Government or on private plantations, will be detailed for military service in the Corps d'Afrique, upon order of the Commission of Enrollment, and that arrangements will made to secure the crops, and laborers will be furnished as far as practicable to supply the vacancies occasioned by the execution of the order.

Advices from Gen. ROSECRANS to the 6th inst. have been received at Washington. The rebel statements respecting the artillery fighting on the 5th inst. seem to have been too highly colored. Their firing was not rapid and at such long range that our men were neither annoyed nor injured. The position of the army at Chattanooga is still considered impregnable to any assault of the enemy. The report that two of our bridges over the Tennessee River have been carried away by a freshet has not received official confirmation.

We have news from Charleston harbor to the 5th inst., brought yesterday by the steamship Curlew, which arrived with the monitor Weehawken in tow. Everything remained quiet, with the exception of occasional firing from the rebel forts, but Gen. GILLMORE'S preparations were nearly completed, and active aggressive measures would soon be resumed.

Very good news is reported from the expedition which left Fortress Monroe last Sunday, under Gen. WISTAR. It was aimed against the guerrillas in Matthews County, Va., whose depredations invited punishment. The expedition not only succeeded in dispersing these scoundrels, but returned with twenty-nine prisoners, four of whom were officers, beside a stock of cattle, and a quantity of arms. A large number of boats were also destroyed. Gen. WISTAR speaks in praise of the Fourth United States infantry, (colored,) which formed part of the expedition.

Rumors of a threatened attack upon Fort Smith by the rebels were current in St. Louis yesterday. A strong force of the enemy, under COBELL, are known to have crossed the Arkansas River, east of Fort Smith, on Sunday last, and to have formed a junction with COFFEY'S men at Crook in Prairie, Mo., with the intention of making a raid in Arkansas or Missouri. The rebels under QUANTRELL, HUNTER and GORDON were reported to be moving toward Fort Scott, and all the available cavalry in the Kansas District and a battery of artillery had been sent to reinforce the post. Little apprehension was felt that it could not be held. A letter from Fort Scott, of the 7th, states that the Staff officers and body-guard of Gen. BLUNT had been captured, as well as the command of Lieut. POND at Baxter's Spring, and it was not altogether certain that Gen. BLUNT had escaped, although it was thought that he had.

JO JOHNSTON is reported to have been at Canton, Miss., on the 30th ult. with 15,000 troops, designed to operate against the reinforcement of ROSECRANS. Gen. STEPHEN D. LEE was near Vicksburgh on the same date, with 4,000 rebel cavalry.

Information of the raid by COFFEE and SHELBY in Central Missouri has been received at St. Louis. These marauders left Warsaw, and moved northeast to strike the Pacific Railroad at Laramie, and burn the bridge at that point. Gen. GROVER, commanding this District, was at Clinton, Henry County, on the 8th, in pursuit of the rebels, and other forces from Springfield and Lebanon were also pressing them hard. Under these circumstances, if the rascals escape, they will be uncommonly fortunate.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Board of Supervisors held a long session yesterday, and appointed most of the Inspectors of Registry required for the City. The nominations for the Fifth and Twenty-second Wards, and a portion of the Seventeeth Ward were not complete. Those Wards were therefore laid over, and the Board adjourned till noon to-day.

The Joint Committee of the Common Council, to do the municipal honors to our Russian guests, met yesterday and decided to have the grand banquet take place at the Astor House on Monday week.

The British bark Glenisla, Capt. PLOCK, arrived at this port yesterday from Nagasaki, Japan, with 7,845 packages tea. This is the second cargo ever imported direct to this country from Japan—the first having been brought by the bark Benefactor.

The Troy Times says: "A man named GUINMAN, of New-York, who was arrested during the riot troubles in that City, has commenced a suit against Gen. WOOL for alleged false imprisonment, laying his damages at the modest sum of $50,000. The papers were served upon the General in this city a few days ago. He has retained eminent counsel, and will, of course, defend the matter to the bitter end."

In the Court of Sessions, yesterday, LOUIS HOLIN pleaded guilty to arson in the fourth degree, and was sentenced to thirty days in the City Prison. The Court adjourned to Monday next. Several of the riot cases will be tried in this Court next week.

The price of Gold was 1⅛ cent. higher yesterday. Last sales, 146¼@147. Bills on London, 161½ ₰ cent. Money easy. Stocks higher than on Thursday, closing steady.

Breadstuffs, Provisions, Cotton, Tallow and Whisky were more sought after yesterday, and prices were very generally higher. A fair inquiry prevailed for Hay, Rice, Leather, Fruit, Salt, Sugars, Metals, Oils, Seeds and Spices. Hops, Lathe, Lime, Molasses and Whalebone were in moderate request. The freight market was somewhat brisker.

Gen. Rosecrans and his Prospects.

The telegraphic dispatches concerning affairs at Chattanooga, which we spread before our readers yesterday and to-day, indicate that the military situation in that quarter is eminently critical. We do not say it is perilous to Gen. ROSECRANS, for we imagine that that officer now holds his position so stoutly, and has such a largely augmented army, that, in the event of another battle, the chances are greatly in favor of his achieving a decisive victory over the army of BRAGG and LONGSTREET. But appearances certainly indicate that the quiet which has prevailed on the Tennessee since the 20th of September is likely soon to be broken, and that the thunders of war which crashed and rolled along the mountain ranges of Upper Georgia three weeks ago, will burst forth again before many days.

As we understand it, the opposing armies occupy, respectively, essentially the same ground now that they did after the close of the two days' battle—BRAGG being stationed on the slope of the hills west of Chickamauga Creek, and eight or ten miles south of Chattanooga, and ROSECRANS being planted in the citadel of Chattanooga, on the south bank of the Tennessee River. A rebel telegram of the 6th inst. states that BRAGG holds Lookout Mountain, which runs up very close to Chattanooga, and which has been considered as really the key to the latter position. They further assert that they opened fire upon ROSECRANS from Lookout, and that their shell exploded in our camp and fired a house in the town. An official dispatch from our own side confirms the statement that the enemy's shell were reaching Chattanooga, but denies that they did the slightest damage or annoyed our men, and other dispatches still assert that ROSECRANS' position is impregnable. There is no necessary contradiction between these statements, for though the rebel shell may reach the town, they may not be able to reach ROSECRANS' lines, which are not coterminous with the town. Further than this "feeling" of our position and the attempted labors of parties of rebel cavalry in our rear, there is no news of important action; but no one can read carefully the rebel and Union telegrams without being convinced that it is close at hand.

The fact of ROSECRANS' reinforcement, which at first was judiciously kept from the enemy, is now published far and wide. He has received two corps from the army of Gen. MEADE, and two corps from the army of Gen. GRANT, beside detachments from other points. This must give him an army much larger than he had at the battle of Chickamauga, when, with few if any advantages of position, he maintained his ground for two days against BRAGG and LONGSTREET. Whether or not the rebels have received still greater reinforcements than those they obtained prior to the last battle, we are not certainly aware. If they are going to fight us again, it may be assumed that they have; for they have confessed the unsatisfactory issue of the last battle, and they know how much stronger our force is now than then, and how hopeless their prospects are unless they have a far greater army in the next engagement than in the last.

We could wish it was ROSECRANS instead of BRAGG who was giving signs of offering battle; but, however that may be, we think that if BRAGG has the temerity to assume the offensive, he will be likely to pay even a greater price for it than he did at the battle of Chickamauga.

GILLMORE AND DAHLGREN.—We have not had more assertions and denials from Europe of the acceptance of the Mexican crown by MAXIMILIAN, than we have had assertions and denials from Washington and Charleston of the want of proper cooperation and harmony of feeling between Gen. GILLMORE and Admiral DAHLGREN, or between the army and the navy in Charleston harbor. We receive so many dispatches concerning this matter—one affirming and another denying, one confirming and another confuting it—that we have ceased altogether publishing them. If the story of the quarrel is false, we have already published several denials of it; and, if true, it can do nothing but harm to keep it continually before the public. But now that we are compelled thus in this instance to mention the subject, we demand that if there be any such want of cordial cooperation and harmony as has been asserted, the Government put a period to it at once. Some of the details of the alleged quarrel given by correspondents, are of such a nature as to show that we cannot expect either action or results in Charleston harbor until it is settled. Thus the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing a few days since, asserts that the Navy Department has information that "the feeling between the two commanders could not be worse than it is, without an open outbreak;" and he gives this information:

"DAHLGREN is the principal to represent to the Navy Department that there is an immense amount of brag about GILLMORE'S artillery performances, that it is all gammon about Sumter being reduced, that several of its heaviest guns are still in position and effectively manned, and that he dare not run up his iron-clads to remove the obstructions in the channel, because, to do so, he would have to place them under these guns, at short range, and insure their being sunk. Meantime, GILLMORE claims to have reduced Sumter, and asks if the navy cannot muster force enough to overpower the handful of men kept there to hinder us from taking possession."

This is truly an amazing state of affairs—if it really be the state of affairs. The Government must know who is in the right, and who is in the wrong, in the matter. Gen. GILLMORE has certainly obtained the plaudits not only of his own country, but of the whole world, for the remarkable deeds he has performed in Charleston harbor, and for the remarkable results that have followed those deeds. Equally certain is it that this country and the whole world are disappointed with the action, or inaction of the monitor navy; but the Government has more definite information than the public, as to how far all this is just. But there can be no difference of opinion on this, that if the two officers whose coöperation is essential to success in the gigantic work they have undertaken, do not entertain mutual respect and work together in accord, one of them should be removed.

The Country's Struggle—A Few Words to Young Men.

Old Copperheads are natural enough; but young ones are monstrosities. It is hard for a man to rise who for years has cringed and crept, but young men can easily stand erect. The party spirit which has once saturated, sticks in, but it takes time to saturate—more time than young men have had. Yet the genuine Copperhead is made only by one of these two—either the servile spirit or party spirit.

By the servile spirit we mean the constant disposition to yield to the dictation of the Slave Power. With all the old Copperhead politicians, it was a habit formed before the rebellion. They had gradually come to feel that the very first public duty of a Northern man was to comply with any demands of the South. Far be it from us to say that this feeling did not often spring from patriotic motives. The meanest habits frequently begin in the best intentions. We have seen quite enough of the world to understand how true it is, as ERSKINE says, that "faults may sometimes be found to have grown out of virtues, and very many of our heaviest offences to have been grafted by human imperfection upon the best and kindest of our affections." But this respectable origin does not make the fault itself any the less a fault. Making the most charitable allowance, the fact still stands that long before the rebellion, very many of our public men had contracted a habit of sacrificing all their better promptings to the behests of the Slave Power, and had thus gradually parted with their independence, until at last not the slightest vestige was left. Their spirit—whether they realized it or not—had become completely servile. In political life they were as absolutely subject to Southern masters as is any Southern slave in social life. But the saddest thing about it is that, though the rebellion has for the time broken all political connection with the South, great numbers of them still retain the old habitual servility. There is a constant impulse to do that which they imagine will be pleasing to the eyes of their old overseers. We presume that many yield to this without any idea that it comes at all from the force of old habit; and that many, too, with such idea, honestly, though in vain, struggle against it. But the thing itself is still the same. It is the servile spirit that prevails. The extent to which this spirit still operates in our Northern politics is not appreciated. It is the real animus of all the opposition to civil enactments and military policies bearing against Slavery. Just as, formerly, it would not do to offend the slaveholders, no matter what principle was involved, just so now.

Of party spirit as an element of Copperheadism, it is hardly necessary to speak. Everybody sees it. A very considerable proportion of the old Democratic party are still held together by it, and systematically oppose the President, simply because he was originally elected by a different party. They make no account of the fact that the Government is now struggling for its existence, and that its constituted authorities have a claim upon the support of all the people without distinction. They put the interests of party before the interests of the country, and concern themselves far more about getting their own men into power than about aiding the men now in power to overthrow the rebellion. The Administration makes its appeal to the loyal spirit of all citizens. It gives its confidence to all, and confers its trusts and honors without regard to old party associations. The noblest portion of the old Democratic party have worthily responded to this spirit of the President, and supported him faithfully and most effectively. Party trammels have not held them for an instant from their public duty. But the other portion have not risen at all from their old party level. They look at everything from the old party points of view, and measure everything by the old party standards. The Democratic party not being in power, they consider opposition their regular business; and they follow this business with little or no regard to the bearings it may have upon the struggle going on between the Government and the rebellion. No historical fact is more certain than that this course of conduct has very often resulted in giving positive aid and comfort to the rebellion; and yet they have none the less persisted in it. It is this self-seeking, jealous, sordid, malignant party spirit that has generated the worst sort of faction which has existed. Without it Copperheadism, as we understand the thing, could not be at all. If it be the old servility to Slavery that bestows the creeping nature, the virus comes from this untimely party spirit.

But it is impossible to excuse a young man for giving way to any such influence. It has been his lot to come upon the stage when the old order of things is passing away. Slavery, which used to lord it so, is fast dying a death of unmitigated infamy. It is easy enough to understand how an old vassal of it should still bow before it with all his former dread, but that a man should now, in its present condition, begin to do so, is marvelous beyond all measure. So, too, it is intelligible enough how it is that so many old politicians still cling to their old party associations, without regard to the awful necessities and obligations of this new period, but all reason and all charity are alike baffled in the endeavor to find an apology for such public faithlessness in a young man who never passed out of his party novitiate. It is not for those in new life to be the victims of old habits. They are free to be governed purely by the generous sentiments and noble impulses which belong to the period of youth—such sentiments and impulses as have sent hundreds of thousands of their class into the battle-field to stake their very life for their country.

The young man who opposes the Government in this crisis will stain his name for life. It will be told of him, he may depend upon it, to his dying day. His dishonor will be as much the more grievous and bitter as his future hopes are larger and mightier. It does not so much matter to the man in more advanced life whose career has been already, in greater or less measure, realized. It is pleasant to know that the immense majority of young men are most stanchly on the side of the Government, and, whether in military or in civil life, ready for every duty. The comparatively few of whom this cannot be said cannot too quickly pause and consider.

AMERICA IN ENGLAND.—Earl RUSSELL'S speech at Blair Gowrie, in Scotland, on American affairs, so far as we may judge of it by the telegraphic abstract given yesterday, is another proof of the clearer sense of justice that seems of late to have obtained expression from officials in Great Britain, and every manifestation of which is gladly hailed by the American people. His differences of opinion with the people of the North and with Senator SUMNER, and his defence of the past action of the British Government, we pass over at present. The past is history; the present is action; and if Earl RUSSELL and his Government will faithfully act up to the spirit of his latest speech, there will be no occasion for ill-feeling or belligerent action between England and the United States.

THE RIOT DAMAGES.—The recent decision of Mr. DEVLIN, the Corporation Counsel, that claimants for losses by reason of the riots in July against the City must commence their suits within the three months prescribed by law, or otherwise run the risk of losing their claims altogether, has caused a number of suits to be presented to the Comptroller. Over nine hundred "demands" were made yesterday by "the Merchants' Committee," on behalf of the suffering colored people. We understand that these nine hundred suits alone, if they are allowed to go before the Courts, will cost the City for legal expenses over one hundred thousand dollars. As this is about the sum total of the amount stated to have been lost by the claimants themselves, t is to be hoped that our already over-taxed City will not be subjected to this seemingly needless expense.

We had supposed these claims were long since disposed of, but it appears that only two hundred, out of a thousand, have been as yet called up for examination, and but one hundred have been awarded.

Winter is near at hand, and the want of stoves, beds, bedding and clothing will soon be severely felt by these poor people. It is the part of humanity, as well as economy, to have these as well as the other claims fairly and expeditiously examined and promptly paid.

THE WAR IN ARKANSAS.

Reported Capture of Gen. Blunt's Staff and Body Guard.

ST. LOUIS, Friday, Oct. 9.

The Democrat's special dispatch from Leavenworth states that intelligence having reached Fort Scott of a threatened attack on Fort Smith, Gen. BLUNT left the former post for the latter. On Sunday last the rebels! Gen. COBELL, with about 10,000 of COOPER'S forces, crossed the Arkansas River east of Fort Smith, and on the 1st joined COFFEE at Crookin Prairie, Missouri, determined to make a raid into Arkansas and Missouri. On receipt of this information, all the cavalry in the Kansas district and a battery were sent to Fort Scott.

A letter from Fort Scott of the 7th says Lieut. TAPPAN, of Gen. BLUNT'S Staff, had arrived. He reports that all the Staff and body guard had been captured; also, the command under Lieut. POND, at Baxter's Spring. Gen. BLUNT had got ten miles away, but it was uncertain whether he has escaped.

The rebel army under QUANTRELL, HUNTER and GORDON were moving toward Fort Scott. There was no danger of that post being taken, it being abundantly strong to resist attack.

GUERRILLAS IN KENTUCKY.

A Train Thrown from the Track and Robbed—Operations in Simpson and Warren Counties.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Thursday, Oct. 8.

One hundred guerrillas, under command of Capt. RICHARDSON, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, placed obstructions on the track of the Lebanon Branch Railroad, at Newhope, twenty miles from the junction, threw the train off the track and fired into it, but fortunately did no damage to the passengers. The guerrillas captured the train, burned two passenger cars, baggage and express cars, destroyed the locomotive, robbed the passengers of money and clothing and decamped.

Reports prevail of a guerrilla raid in Simpson and Warren Counties, under HUGHES. The guerrillas burned the depot at Auburn, on the Memphis Branch. Great excitement prevails in all the counties between Munfordsville and the Tennessee line, which are infested by guerrillas. Maj. NORTON, of the Third regiment mounted infantry, pursued the rebels yesterday from Glasgow, and recaptured everything taken by them at that place. The report that the rebels robbed the Bank at Glasgow is untrue.

REBEL RAID IN MISSOURI.

Coffee and Shelby Aim a Blow at the Pacific Railroad—Small Chance of their Success—Our Forces in Hot Pursuit.

ST. LOUIS, Friday, Oct. 9.

Information has been received at headquarters, in this city, of COFFEE and SHELBY'S raid into Central Missouri from Warsaw. They moved northeast, with the expected design of striking the Pacific Railroad at Laramie Bridge, burning that structure and destroying the road. Gen. GROVE, commanding the Central District, was at Clinton, Henry County, yesterday, in pursuit of the rebels. A force was also moving up from Springfield; another from Lebanon, which will press the enemy so closely, that they can hardly do much mischief. Gen. TOTTEN left here last night, for Jefferson City, to take command of a portion of the force intended to meet the rebels.

THE WAR IN MISSISSIPPI.

Movements Against Rosecrans.

ST. LOUIS, Friday, Oct. 9.

A special dispatch to the Democrat, dated Vicksburgh, Sept. 30, says JOE JOHNSTON was at Canton, Miss., with 15,000 troops, his supposed design being to prevent reinforcements going to ROSECRANS. Gen. STEPHEN D. LEE has 4,000 rebel cavalry near Vicksburgh. JOHNSTON says their victories are useless, unless they can crush ROSECRANS before reinforcements reach him.

The Memphis-Atlanta Appeal, speaking of their success at Chattanooga, says: "We shall now be recognized. Our securities will rise. VALLANDIGHAM will be elected."

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Friday, Oct. 9.

GEN. WADSWORTH'S FIELD OF DUTY.

The employment at last given to Gen. WADSWORTH will take him to Mississippi. His functions will be of a mixed character, civil and military.

THE SOLDIERS' VERDICT AGAINST VALLANDIGHAM.

A canvas of the hospitals here shows that only five out of nearly one thousand sick and wounded Ohio soldiers oppose the Union nominee for Governor. Four out of these five while objecting to BROUGH on personal grounds, scorn the thought of casting a ballot for VALLANDIGHAM. Only one of them is an out-and-out Copperhead. The Union ticket in Ohio will receive from fifteen hundred to two thousand votes from this district. About five hundred Union voters left for Ohio to-day.

THE TRIAL OF COUNT GUROWSKI.

The trial of the indictment against Count GUROW, SKI, which began at 11 o'clock this forenoon, stumbled in the opening on the suggestion of a blunder in one of the material requisites to establish the libel—staggered near noon under the judicial intimation that it was a virtue in an employe of the State Department, or anybody else, to communicate to the South American States the secret intentions of the filibusters, and that a libel could not be predicated of such a communication, and fell flat an hour after noon in an unsuccessful endeavor to prove the printed libel by showing its resemblance to a written manuscript, bearing the same title which the Count had once taken to a book-binder. When the Court adjourned the District-Attorney was presenting a written demand that Count GUROWSKI should produce this manuscript of the libel, and so convict himself, and the noble Polander was looking astonished and the Bar and audience were laughing. Judge CARTER tried the cause.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE STAMPS.

The ruling of Commissioner BOUTWELL, from which Mr. LEWIS dissented in his compilation of former decisions was, that stamps can be both affixed and canceled by persons other than the signer and maker of the instrument. Commissioner LEWIS' reaffirmation of his ruling is unquestionably law as well as logic.

RETURN OF RELEASED CHAPLAINS.

The following chaplains, captured at Winchester five months ago, arrived here to-night from Richmond: James Harvey, One Hundred and Tenth Ohio; Geo. H. Hammer, Twelfth Pennsylvania cavalry; O. Taylor, Fifth Michigan cavalry; E. W. Brady, One Hundred and Sixteenth Ohio; D. C. Eberhart, Eighty-seventh Pennsylvania; Louis N. Bowdrye, Fifth New-York cavalry; E. C. Ambler, Sixty-seventh Pennsylvania; Jas. T. Brown, Sixth Maryland.

A NOTABLE PRISONER.

Senator JOHN SEDDON, brother of JEFF. DAVIS' Secretary of War, crossed the Rappahannock on Saturday last below Falmouth, and was nabbed by one of our pickets. He gave his name as BOWEN, and representing that he was on business pertaining to one of his farms in Stafford County, was permitted to go.

THE MEDICAL INVESTIGATING COMMISSION.

The Commission to investigate the condition of the Medical Department have finished their investigations in Philadelphia. So far, not the slightest blame is attached to Surgeon-General HAMMOND.

A VETERAN CORPS.

Recruiting for the Veteran corps progresses very rapidly. In some instances almost entire regiments have reënlisted and applications are increasing.

SECRETARY CHASE GONE HOME.

Secretary CHASE went to Ohio to-night.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A SUTLER.

W. H. A. SMITH, widely known as the sutler of the Convalescent Camp, died this morning of apoplexy.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Friday, Oct. 9.

DEATH PENALTY COMMUTED.

The sentence of death by Court-Martial, which was to have been executed on private BRAWLEY, of the One Hundred and Twenty-Second New-York regiment, in the army the Potomac, at noon to-day, was suspended, by order of the President, providing the culprit would agree to make up the time he was absent by desertion, by continuing in the service after the three years' term of his regiment has expired.

PARADE OF ODD FELLOWS.

A procession of about three hundred colored Odd Fellows to-day, ending with appropriate oratorical exercises and festivities, is among the latest novelties in Washington since the Abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia. Delegates were present from New-York, Pennsylvania, Boston, Alexandria, Baltimore and Canada. There were two bands of colored musicians, with a profuse display of regalias, banners, &c., with appropriate emblems, and several National flags. The dignitaries of the order rode in carriages. The procession was followed by a large crowd of colored spectators, while others accompanied it in carriages of various kinds and on horseback.

CAPTURED CORRESPONDENCE.

LETTER FROM GEN. GADSDEN, OF SOUTH CAROLINA, TO JEFF. DAVIS.

WASHINGTON, Friday, Oct. 9.

The following letter from Gen. GADSDEN, of South Carolina, was found among the captured correspondence of JEFF. DAVIS. It will be seen that he therein made important suggestions as to a great federation of the West India Islands, stimulated in its prosperity and advancement by African Slavery, as now existing in the Southern States.

[Private.]

MEXICO, July 19, 1854.

Gen. Davis:

DEAR SIR: I have only time before the express leaves for a very brief note. The affairs in this Republic are in a status rather retrograding. The treasury minus. The possible replenishing by the treaty already anticipated in contracts to build up a military and naval power. The latter is an absurdity; the former a necessity to sustain the power which SANTA ANNA weakly aspires to. If he can command a revenue he may have a brief triumph. But the ignorance of himself and Cabinet in not yielding to the spirit and progress of the age and in vainly hoping that they can sustain the anticipated policy of monopolies and restrictions, abandoned by every enlightened country, will prove the downfall of centrality and of tyrannical exactions.

Guerro maintains her independence. Michoacan is following suit; and the recovery of State sovereignty by those two States, open to the Pacific and accessible to commerce, will enable them to sustain separate nationality, or to force back the federation of the States which has been absorbed under one nationality. If the leaders in Guerro and Michoacan understand the trumps of State sovereignty they will achieve a victory, and either remain as separate sovereignties, or reunite with old members under a new federation. It is generally understood that the States along the Rio Grande, with Sonora, Zacatecas and Durango are in a feverish state, and that most of the exiled Republicans are in wait on the frontier, prepared to take part in the first explosion. Information to-day from Vera Cruz reports disaffection in that quarter. It has always been a Republican State, and its pronunciamentos generally indorsed by Puebla, the most powerful of the old federation. So you may rest satisfied of one fact, that the political elements are convulsed, and an explosion will upset centralization and restore the federation, and with success expose SANTA ANNA to another successful retreat into exile, unless profiting from experience and the indications around, he coalesces with the Republicans and deserts the monarchical influences which have thus far misled and controlled him. Rumor gives him the credit of endeavoring to fraternize with the Republicans or Moderados now in conciliation with the Puros. This (if they will trust him) is his only safety.

You will see, from the proclamation of the Captain-General of Cuba, that my speculations on the policy of Spain in relation to that island were not extravagant. If you will compare this document, which you can see in the Intelligencer, of the 15th of June, with the decree of a previous date on the propagation of African slaves, that they are in harmony. The statesmen of the world are awakening to the great truths which the Harpers and McDuffies of my little State first foreshadowed as to African Slavery. The subserviency and dependence of the inferior to the superior class, and the convictions on the part of the ultra Abolitionists have only increased their rabidness, while the work will go on, and the designs of Providence be fulfilled. Cuba, whether annexed or remaining a separate sovereignty from Spain and the United States, and carrying out that policy of humanity, which PEZUELA has proclaimed for securing the "maintenance and prosperity and the increase of Slavery," will prove the nucleus of its restoration in the other islands, which, by an opposite and mistaken policy, are rapidly lapsing into barbarism. Have you ever in your visions dreamt of a great federation of West India Islands, stimulated in their prosperity and advancement by African Slavery as now existing in the Southern States? History has never recorded such a commercial and naval power as Cuba, St. Domingo, Porto Rico and Jamaica, united under one federation, could rear up. The movements in Cuba make it no longer a dream of the imagination; and if the United States, true to her own interests, would take the initiatory to protect the white race in St. Domingo, and give them the opportunity of recovering their power in that garden of Eden, from whence French incendiarism drove its Adams and its Eves, Hayti and Domingo would sing anthems to their deliverers from barbarism and their regeneration under the restoration of African Slavery. As startling as may seem the speculation, it is a work more easy of accomplishment than the vain efforts to free the black man and to regenerate them under an African empire. It is worth consideration, however, and becomes particularly interesting to the Southern States of our federation. Without annexation, and free from those conflicts at Washington to check Southern expansion there, the Southern planter of enterprise would find space enough and inducements enough to seek new homes for himself and domestics in the most lovely domains of God's creation, and all united in harmony under one homogeneous American system. I must again, therefore, invite your consideration to the suggestions in my last, and of the agency I would be pleased to exercise in the examination, if not the promotion, of these hallucinations. I should judge from the movements of Senator DOUGLAS that the report of Gen. CARRO must have been favorable, and from his letter to the Evening Post he seems deeply impressed with some views I have detailed, and which, I presume, must have been the objects of that Commission. I presume if diplomatic relations with St. Domingo are opened, that Gen. and Mrs. FLORA MONTGOMERY will return and have charge. My views were not to supersede those individuals who so merit confidence; but only to be a general inspector through all the islands named, extending to the minor, if deemed advisable, so as to be well-informed as to their state and condition, and the designs of those who at present direct their destinies. The President of San Domingo might consult with me in his negotiations, and, both comprehending and favoring their policy, act in concert to advance. We cannot begin the work too soon; and a most important preliminary would be, as in Japan, to secure a coal station at Samana. A rendezvous of American steamers at that point would not only afford us the means of protecting American commerce in the Indies and on the coast of South America, but to guard and watch with a faithful eye interests which are growing up in that quarter, and which seem to have united so little emotion in the United States. If the President and yourself accord to my views and wishes, all that will be necessary will be to put at my disposal the Fulton, to be at Vera Cruz in November, so that we may have the Winter months for examination, &c.

Let me hear from you as early as practicable, so that I may go to work to prepare for the Inquisitorial Cruise. If aught can be done here to enlighten these people and make them understand their true interests, as identified with the American system, it will engage my unceasing vigilance. But the Church, the old Spaniards, the monarchical influences, with that of those money-changers whom our Saviour drove from the temple, are so predominant in power that I almost despair of any regeneration in the cause of free trade as antagonistical to monopolies, restrictions, church temporalities and all the plunder involved in that policy. Yours, J. G.

MASON & HAMLIN'S CABINET ORGANS,
ONE TO TWELVE STOPS.
$70 TO $600 EACH.
MASON BROTHERS respectfully invite attention to the following remarkable testimonials, which they believe to be, considering the eminence of their sources, and the emphatic character of the testimony itself, the most conclusive evidence which any manufacturers have ever yet been able to present, of the superiority and value of their instruments.
From GOTTSCHALK.
I congratulate you on the introduction of a new musical instrument, long wanted, and sure to find its way into every household of taste and refinement which can possibly afford its moderate expense. Your CABINET ORGAN is truly a charming instrument, worthy of the high praise it has received, and far superior to everything of its class I have seen. I take pleasure in commending it most heartily as everywhere worthy a place beside the piano-forte, to which it is a fine complement, from its capacity for rendering much delightful music, sacred and secular, classic and popular, to which the piano is not adapted. GOTTSCHALK.
NEW-YORK, Sept. 22, 1863.
From more than One Hundred Eminent Organists and Artists.
"We regard the Instruments of Mason & Hamlin as the BEST OF THEIR CLASS of which we have any knowledge, and take pleasure in recommending their CABINET ORGANS especially, as very admirable and desirable for both private and public use." (Signed:)

DENTISTS.

A CIRCULAR containing many interesting facts respecting the NITROUS OXIDE GAS, with the cost of apparatus—the right apparatus—will be sent to any dentist, on receipt of the postage, three cents. The undersigned originated the use of the gas as an anæsthetic agent, and has had twenty years' experience in its manufacture. Most of the apparatus sold in this City for making the gas is worthless, as many dentists have learned to their cost. They have used it and failed, and then came to "headquarters" for instructions. Where the gas is pure, as it should be, and properly administered, not the slightest pain is felt in the extraction of teeth. Address

IT IS A DYE.
IT IS A DYE.
IT IS A DYE.
IT IS A DYE.
In the year 1845, Mr. Mathews first prepared the VENETIAN HAIR DYE. Since that time it has been used by thousands, and in no instance has it failed to give entire satisfaction.
The VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is only FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.
The VENETIAN DYE is warranted not to injure the hair or the scalp in the slightest degree.
The VENETIAN DYE works with rapidity and certainty, the hair requiring no preparation whatever.
The VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired—one that will not fade, crock or wash out—one that is as permanent as the hair itself. For sale by all druggists.

OFFICE MARIETTA AND CINCINNATI R. R. Co.,
CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 29, 1863.

NOTICE.—THE FOLLOWING RESOLUTION was adopted by the Board of Directors the 11th of March, 1863:

Resolved—That, as a guarantee of the punctual payment of the interest upon the funded debt of this Company, the net earnings in each half of the fiscal year, to the 30th of June, for the purpose, shall be set off and immediately deposited as follows, viz.: so much as may be necessary to pay the coupons upon the sterling bonds in the London Joint Stock Bank, and such sum as may be necessary to pay the coupons on the dollar bonds in New-York, which deposits shall be held subject to this purpose only, and that public notice of the deposit shall be duly made by publication in the Cities of London and New-York in such manner as the President may direct.

The net earnings for the month of July being more than sufficient for the purpose, funds have been deposited with the London Joint Stock Bank in London and with Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co., in New-York, for payment of the coupons due 1st February next.

Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co. will pay the coupons on presentation, deducting interest at six per cent. per annum.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF NEW-YORK,
GOVERNMENT AGENCY
FOR
THE NATIONAL LOAN,
WALL-STREET, NEW-YORK, October, 1863.

This Bank has been appointed a Government Agent for the sale and distribution of United States 5-20 Bonds, and is now ready to receive orders and subscriptions for the same in Bonds to bearer, of the denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, or in Certificates of Registered Stock in the name of the applicant.

These Bonds will be furnished at par, interest to commence on the day we receive the money, and a commission of one-eighth of one per cent. will be allowed to banks, bankers, savings banks and dealers in Government securities.

The Government is now able to supply Bonds with very little delay, but for the greater convenience of the public, we propose to keep always on hand a full supply of Coupon Bonds, of the several denominations, for immediate delivery.

This Bank will also deal largely in all classes of Government securities, and will, at all times, buy or sell them at very favorable rates.

Accounts opened with this Bank will receive the greatest care and attention, and interest will be allowed on deposits in cases specially agreed upon.

Our correspondence with all accessible points in the United States and Canadas, enables us to receive collections, Domestic and Foreign Exchange, &c., on as advantageous terms as any other institution in the country.

PROPOSALS FOR $500,000 VOLUNTEERS' FAMILY AID FUND BONDS.

NO. SEVEN.—Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's office, until Saturday, Oct. 31, 1863, at 3 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened, for the purchase, at not less than their par value, of the whole or any part of the sum of five hundred thousand dollars of the "Volunteer Soldiers' Family Aid Fund Bonds, No. 7," authorized by an ordinance of the Corporation, passed Oct. 5, 1863, and an act of the Legislature of the State of New-York, passed March 5, 1863.

The said bonds will bear interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of May and November in each year, and the principal will be redeemed Nov. 1, 1871.

The proposals will state the amount of bonds desired, and the price for one hundred dollars thereof, and the persons whose proposals are accepted will be required to deposit with the Chamberlain of the City, within five days after the opening of the bids, the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the Chamberlain for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive bonds for equal amounts of the par value thereof, bearing interest from dates of payments.

Each proposition should be sealed, and indorsed "Proposals for Volunteer Soldiers' Family Aid Fund Bonds, No. 7," and inclosed in a second envelope addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, if the interest of the Corporation requires it.

AUCTION SALES.

G. W. NICHOLS, Auctioneer.
W. H. DISBROW'S
GRAND AUCTION SALE
OF HORSES, CARRIAGES, HARNESS, &c.,
On THURSDAY, Oct. 15, 1863,
Commencing at 9 o'clock P. M., at
MESSRS. ALLERTON'S DROVE-YARD,
8th-av. and 45th-st., New-York.

In conformity with the request of many patrons, the subscriber will offer for sale, by auction, at the above grounds, an extensive variety of the property of many private gentlemen wishing to dispose of their establishments without inconvenience or delay.

Mr. D. flatters himself that the above sale will be productive of great benefit to the public by bringing together a large concourse of sellers and purchasers.

The want of an appropriate place of easy access for City and country patrons by the City cars and omnibuses, is happily combined, it being on 8th-av. and in the most fashionable part of the City, and having a beautiful unpaved driving and riding course one quarter of a mile long.

Gentlemen wishing to enter their horses, &c., for the above sale, can do so at my office, 8th-av., corner of 46th-st., at any time previous to the 14th inst., on which day catalogues will be ready for distribution.

N. B.—Should the weather prove unfavorable, the sale will be postponed to Saturday, 17th inst.

At Sherwood, Bergen Heights, New-Jersey,
On the ground,
75 villa plots and 150 city lots, together with several small cottages and a handsome gothic cottage, with about one acre of ground attached.

The above property is situated about two miles from Jersey City Ferry, and accessible at all times by dummy engines and horse cars, starting every 15 minutes from the ferry house and passing through the property. A more desirable investment for capitalists or those wishing comfortable homesteads in the neighborhood of New-York, has seldom been offered.

For maps and other information, apply to DAVID SCOTT, No. 68 Montgomery-st., Jersey City, or to ANDREW CLERK & CO., No. 46 Maiden-lane, New-York.

DANIEL A. MATHEWS, Auctioneer.
SPECIAL SALE OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, CARPETS, MIRROR, &C.

DANIEL A. MATHEWS & CO. will sell at auction, THIS DAY, (Saturday) at 10½, at their salerooms, No. 60 Nassau-st., near Maiden-lane, a large assortment of household furniture, (removed for convenience of sale) consisting of rosewood parlor suites, in brocatelle and reps; centre tables, pier mirrors, book-cases, brussels and ingrain carpets, buffets, extension tables, dining chairs, lounges, oiled walnut, oak and enameled bed-room suites, curled hair mattresses, palliasses, feather beds, easy chairs, wardrobes, bureaus, washstands, engravings, china, glassware, &c.; also, kitchen furniture, &c. Catalogues and goods now ready for examination.

RICHARD WALTERS, Auctioneer.
MORTGAGE SALE.

Will sell, on SATURDAY, Oct. 10, by virtue of a chattel mortgage, at 10 o'clock, at Nos. 296, 298, 300 and 302 Henry-st., a quantity of machinery, consisting of 4 planing machines, moulding machines, several circular saws, patent scroll saws, boring machines, tenoning and other lathes, ballister machine, 2 tenoning machines, 2 mortising, tenoning and boring machines, double blind planer, grooving machine and saw, 1,000 moulding cutters, 4 moulding planes, with all the shafting, belting and pulleys on the premises.

JOHN W. THORP, Attorney for Mortgagee.

The above sale postponed from Thursday, Oct. 8, to above time and date.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Resolved, (If the Assembly concur.) That the following amendment be proposed to the Constitution of this State:

There shall be added to the sixth article of the Constitution of this State, as the twenty-sixth section thereof, the following,

Whenever, and as soon as this amendment to the Constitution shall take effect, the Governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint five persons Commissioners of Appeals, who shall have power to hear and determine all appeals then pending in the Court of Appeals, which may be transferred to them by said Court, and shall have all the general powers of a Court of Record for that purpose. The Clerk of the Court of Appeals shall act as Clerk of said Commissioners, and the judgment rendered by the said Commissioners shall be entered by the said Clerk in the records of the Court of Appeals, and shall have the same force and effect as if rendered by the said Court. One of said Commissioners shall be named as Chief Commissioner, and the said Commission shall continue, and the said Commissioners hold their office, until all the causes transferred to them shall have been heard and determined, but not longer than four years from the date of the original Commission. The said Commissioners shall receive the same compensation as the judges of the Court of Appeals. They may appoint the time and places of their sittings, and the Legislature shall provide for the expense thereof.

But said sitting shall not be appointed for the same time as those fixed for the Court of Appeals; and the Reporter of the Court of Appeals shall be the Reporter of the said Commissioners.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, IN SENATE, March, 31, 1863.

The foregoing resolution was duly passed. By order of the Senate. JAS. TERWILLIGER, Clerk.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, IN ASSEMBLY, April 6, 1863.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION, PROVIDING THAT PERSONS IN THE MILITARY SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES, IN THE ARMY OR NAVY THEREOF, MAY VOTE AT THE PLACE WHERE THEY MAY BE IN SUCH SERVICE.

Resolved, (If the Senate concur.) That the following amendment be proposed to the Constitution of this State:

Section one of article two is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following words:

Provided, That in time of war, no elector in the actual military service of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from the State; and the Legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which, and the time and places at which, such absent electors may vote, and the canvass and returns of their votes in the election districts in which they respectively reside or other wise.

Resolved, (If the Senate concur.) That the foregoing amendment be referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election of Senators, and that the same be published for three months prior to such election, pursuant to section one of article thirteen of the Constitution.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, IN ASSEMBLY, April 22, 1863.

The foregoing resolutions were duly passed. By order of the Assembly. J. B. CUSHMAN, Clerk.

MEDICAL.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send for a circular, or write.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1834. Those who have used their nostrums are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st., New-York.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND those about to be married.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 160th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,234 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Verger-st. (Astor House) and No. 18 Ann-st.; FEDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE, Containing nearly 300 pages and 150 fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the sexual organs, in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on self-abuse, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by the report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent, free of postage, to any address on receipt of 25 cents, in specie or postage-stamps. Address Dr. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden-lane, Albany, N. Y.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the unmarried or single, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Procured of Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st. Call or send for circulars.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose. They will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr POWERS, 50 Lispenard-st., New-York.

DR HUNTER'S RED DROP RESTORES the vigor of youth in four days. Restores manhood to the most shattered system. No. 3 Division-st., New-York, the only place. Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters. The City is full of knaves, up to every trick to rob him of his great reputation as a skilful and reliable physician. No other office but No. 3 Division-st. Established in 1834. Eight separate rooms and a private entrance.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

DR. JOHNSON, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY be consulted with confidence on private diseases. Thirty years in one specialty enables him to guarantee speedy and permanent cures. N. B.—Those who may have been misled by quack advertisements, nostrums, &c., can call on Dr. J., with the certainty of receiving honorable treatment.

OLD DR. HUBBARD'S FEMALE PILLS are far superior to all others now in use. Price three dollars and five dollars per box. C. N. CRITTENTON, General Agent, No. 38 6th-av., corner of 4th-st. Sent by mail on receipt of price. For sale in Brooklyn at Nos. 20 and 204 Fulton-av.

ADVICE TO LADIES.—IN ALL CASES where infallible medicines are desired, or mode of treatment that never fails, call upon Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of diseases of Women, author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," who treats female complaints exclusively. Office 129 Liberty-st.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which period he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICINES.

FRIDAY, Oct. 9—P. M.

The price of Gold is 1 ℔ cent. higher than yesterday—last sales this afternoon, at Second Board, at 146⅞@147 ℔ cent. Exchange on London is 161½ ℔ cent. for first-class Bankers. The market for Money is rather easier to-day than for any previous day of the week. The rates to the Brokers continue 6@7 ℔ cent. The Treasury made no further call upon the Associated Banks for this week, although an impression obtained currency that $3,500,000 would be required on the recent negotiation, as usual, on Saturday. The receipts this week for the Popular Loan have afforded the Treasury Office here a sufficient amount of Currency for its present wants. The sales by the Popular Loan to-day, by Messrs. LIVERMORE, CLEWS & Co., Sub Agents, alone amount to $325,000. The receipts at the Treasury Office on this account, altogether, amount to $918,000. The Customs Receipts in Gold were again large—$328,000.

The Stock Market continues inactive. Prices for the Railways to-day show a recovery of about 1 ℔ cent. from the lowest sales of yesterday, and on some descriptions, like Hudson, Harlem, Michigan Southern and Northwest, the rise is 1½@2 ℔ cent. Among the miscellaneous shares the rise on Pacific Mail is 3 ℔ cent., Central American Transit 6@6½ ℔ cent., and on Quicksilver Company 2@2½ ℔ cent. The State 6 ℔ cents of Missouri are weaker. The Government Stocks steady at the Board, and there is a continued large demand for the Popular Loan at the various Sub-Loan Agencies and at the Treasury direct. The general market at the Second Board left off steady.

The New-York Stock Exchange Board have definitely resolved to erect a building of their own for the Stock Exchange, and for this have concluded the purchase of the property 40 feet front on Broad-street, (No. 12,) near Wall, and 200 feet on New-street in the rear. The whole purchase involves a cost of $200,000.

At 4 o'clock the following prices were made as compared with Thursday night:

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States was as follows: Receipts, $4,081,382 65, including for customs $328,000; payments, $3,791,039 62; balance, $29,419,901 79.

Messrs. MULLER, WILKINS & Co. will hold their regular auction sale of Stocks and Bonds to-morrow, (Saturday,) at 12½ o'clock, at the Exchange salesroom, No. 111 Broadway. See auction column.

A general and material rise in prices of all really desirable styles of Dry Goods, especially of Domestic Cottons and Woolens has taken place during the past week, resulting mainly from the advance in gold and foreign exchanges, and the stiffening tendency of the market for the principal raw materials. The demand has been quite active for the season, and liberal sales have been effected, in many instances, ahead of arrival, stocks of popular fabrics having been greatly reduced, particularly with the jobbing trade. The auction sales of the week have not been remarkably important. The market closes too irregularly to enable us to give any reliable quotations, owing to the frequent fluctuations in prices, and the very high claims of the principal holders, who are not eager to sell at present, as they are anticipating a further rise. In Philadelphia, according to the North American, of this morning, business "continues very active and the prices of all the staple articles are steadily on the advance, under the rapid improvement in cotton. The stocks are becoming very much reduced, and the production is unusually light; many of the mills, both here and at the East, being idle, or working short time, owing to the high price of the raw material. Heavy Brown Cottons and Drills at 40c.; 5-4 goods, 45c. and 3-4, 27c. Bleached Cottons are better, and Prints are active and 1c. higher. Stripes, Ticks and Checks are also better, and Cotton Flannels scarce and bringing higher prices. Woolens of all kinds are tending upward, and for all desirable kinds prices are better and the demand active, especially for fancy Cassimeres, Doeskins and Satinets." The Imports of Foreign Dry Goods at the port of New-York for the week ending Oct. 8 were $1,593,614 against $365,889 same week last year, and $313,519 the corresponding week of 1861. The following is the summary for the week:

	CONSUMPTION DIRECT. Pkgs.	Value.	WAREHOUSED. Pkgs.	Value.	WITHDRAWN. Pkgs.	Value.

The receipts of the New-York and Harlem Railroad Company were for the month of September,

1863	$124,615 18
1862	99,435 24
Increase	$25,179 94

The month of September completes the fiscal year, which shows an increase of $251,414 75 over the previous year.

PRESENTATION.—The gold medel to Young NICOLO will be presented this evening by a Committee of the subscribers to this superb trophy—so well earned by this intrepid boy. The medal has been exhibited to us, and the manufacturers, Messrs. BALL, BLACK & Co., of Broadway, merit the highest praise for having completed this work of art in the short space of four days.

A well-known merchant of this City who had suffered for a number of years from consumption, and was apparently in the last stage of the disease, has been perfectly cured by Dr. SCOTT, of Union-square.—Express.

A BAD BREATH, THE GREATEST CURSE THE HUMAN FAMILY IS HEIR TO.—How many lovers it has separated—how many friends forever parted! The subject is too delicate; your nearest friend will not mention it, and you are ignorant of the fact yourself. To effect a radical cure, use the "Balm of Thousand Flowers," as a dentrifice, night and morning. It also beautifies the complexion, removing all tan, pimples and freckles, leaving the skin soft and white. For sale by all druggists.

ROBERT BULWER LYTTON'S NOVEL.

HARPER & BROTHERS, NEW-YORK,
PUBLISH THIS DAY:

I.

THE RING OF AMASIS.

THE RING OF AMASIS. From the Papers of a German Physician. By ROBERT BULWER LYTTON, (Owen Meredith.) 12mo., Cloth, $1,

The writer of this book is the son of Bulwer, the celebrated novelist—and the book itself may be called the son of Bulwer's "Strange Story;" its design being to mingle Romance with the Supernatural, and to link the mystery of human passion as closely as possible with the mysteries of Destiny. It has some curious dissertations, one of which, on the relation of the Doctor and patient, is very suggestive; that on Apparitions is ingeniously curious. Those readers with whom Owen Meredith's Poems are favorites will surely not be disappointed in the story.

II.

KNAPP'S FRENCH READER.

CHRESTOMATHIE FRANCAISE: Containing, I. Selections from the best French Writers, with Copious References to the Author's French Grammar. II. The Masterpieces of Molière, Racine, Boileau, and Voltaire; with Explanatory Notes, a Glossary of Idiomatic Phrases, and a Vocabulary. By WILLIAM I. KNAPP, A. M., Professor of Modern Languages and Literature in Madison University, N. Y. 12mo, Cloth. $1 25.

The object of this work is to furnish in a single volume a comple Reading-Book for Students of the French Language. In the First Part, every Grammatical Principle is explained by references to the sections of the author's French Grammar, in which they are fully elucidated. The necessity of encumbering the text with notes is thus avoided. In the Second Part, the Masterpieces of the French classical writers are given entire. The Glossary furnishes an explanation of every idiomatic phrase; and the Vocabulary includes all the words occurring in the volume.

The FRENCH GRAMMAR, for which this Chrestomathie is designed as a companion, is now in press, and will be issued as soon as possible. This will contain a clear statement and exposition of all the laws and usages of the language, arranged in scientific order. The two works, forming a complete Introduction to the Study of the French Language, are designed to supersede the various empirical "systems" of teaching the French language, which have proved so unsatisfactory.

DAILY WALK WITH WISE MEN.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES FOR EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR. Selected, arranged, and specially adapted, by Rev. NELSON HEAD. Large 12mo, Cloth, $1 50.

This book of daily readings is intended by the editor as a help to Christian meditation, devotion and holy practice. The names of the authors are a sufficient commendation of their writings. One here will meet with the beautiful and fervid teachings of Chrysostom, or the golden-mouthed Greek Father—the deep and devout utterances of St. Augustine, the Latin Father—the richness of Taylor—the earnestness of Baxter—the sublimity of Howe—the calm and lucid expositions of Davenant—the striking illustrations and fullness of Reynolds—the tender appeals of Flavel—the sweetness and unction of Leighton—and the silvery eloquence of Bates—all presenting the highest truths, so as to enlighten the understanding, warm the heart, and direct the practice of a holy life.

MRS. WOOD'S NEW BOOK.
FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

THE SHADOW OF ASHLYDYAT. SHADOW OF ASHLYDYAT. SHADOW OF ASHLYDYAT.

BY

Mrs. HENRY WOOD,

Author of "Verner's Pride," "Squire Trevlyn's Heir," "The Earl's Heirs," "East Lynne," "Channings," "Mystery," "A Life's Secret," "The Castle's Heir," &c., &c.

THE SHADOW OF ASHLYDYAT is published and for sale THIS DAY by all booksellers and news agents, and is printed from the author's manuscript and advance proof sheets purchased direct from Mrs. Henry Wood, and is issued here by us eight weeks in advance of the completion or publication of the work in Europe. It is now two years since Mrs. Wood began the publication of this work in Europe in monthly parts, and it has created a sensation there second to no work ever before issued in that country.

It is published complete in two large octavo volumes, paper cover, price $1 a copy, or bound in one volume, cloth, for $1 25. We also publish a "Railway Edition" of it, complete in one volume, paper cover. Price $1.

READ THE FOLLOWING NOTICE OF IT:

"THE SHADOW OF ASHLYDYAT. By Mrs. HENRY WOOD. T. B. Peterson & Brothers have just issued from the manuscript and advance proof-sheets, purchased from Mrs. Wood at a large price, an entire new novel, entitled 'The Shadow of Ashlydyat,' which is issued here eight weeks in advance of its completion or publication in England. It will be read with interest by all who delight in the marvelously and ingeniously constructed plots which are characteristic of this authoress' writings. Mrs. Wood has a marvelous faculty of charming her readers with the skill with which she puts her characters on the stage, of multiplying her plots, of sustaining her dialogues, and of intensifying all her minor incidents. 'The Shadow of Ashlydyat' will not be laid aside without eager perusal to the end, for the reader will be constantly led aside into new avenues and lanes, with such enchanting views and scenery, that he never wearies of the path; there are so many new faces among the minor actors, and such a magic interest thrown around all they say and do, that his delectation is complete, and his interest never flags for a moment. It is but justice to say that, in these respects, which are the secret of Mrs. Wood's great popularity as a novelist, this, her latest work, is her best. It is, indeed, a more finished production than 'Verner's Pride,' which has generally been accounted her happiest effort. This volume will add greatly to her high reputation, and will be perused with eagerness by the whole reading public, while in less than three months it will be enjoyed in a dramatic form from half the theatres in the country. It is remarkably well printed, in large type, and on fine paper."

Copies of either edition will be sent to any one, free of postage, on remitting the price to T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS, in a letter.
